

ASS'T G. O. P. TREASURER ADMITS COX IS RIGHT RELATIVE TO QUOTAS FOR 51 LARGEST CITIES

OFFICIAL DOCUMENTS SHOW SUBSCRIPTIONS OF $10,000 SOUGHT

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Charges by Governor Cox that the Republicans had fixed quotas and planned intensive fund raising drives in at least 51 cities, and that the national committee had had a part in assessing the city quotas were admitted in the stand before the senate investigating committee today by Harry M. Blair, assistant to Fred W. Upton, Republican national treasurer.

Heading from a document produced by Mr. Blair, which he said, was sent out in lieu of the much discussed "form 101," Senator Reed brought out that the treasurer's office planned to organize intensive drives in 51 cities, three more than the Ohio governor mentioned when he read his list of 51 at Pittsburgh.

From the same document, Senator Reed read that the local chairman appointed in each city was to "accept the quota placed upon the city by the national treasurer."

"But he never did that to my knowledge," Mr. Blair interjected. He explained that the plan "in his mind" was for the state chairman of the ways and means to select local chairmen in cities, who then would be confirmed by Mr. Upton "to make it official" and that Mr. Upton should pass a card to the local chairman a city quota suggested by the state head.

His testimony at many points showed that the ideas which he had in his mind were rejected by his superiors when placed on paper, which was the fate of "form 101."

Mr. Blair produced a copy of that form and when it was compared to the copy of the same form which Governor Cox had sent to the committee by Edmund Moore, his personal representative, the governor's copy was found to be incomplete. An entire paragraph which appeared in Mr. Blair's copy, was omitted from that sent by the governor. The paragraph suggested that contributions of $5,000 and $10,000 be accepted, removing the $1,000 limit fixed by Chairman Hays. The copy furnished by the governor merely suggested that contributions of from $5,000 upwards be received. While he planned drives in 51 cities, Mr. Blair said, it was found impossible to carry out the program because of local conditions in some places. He mentioned Minneapolis, St. Paul, Dallas and Houston as cities where the drives were abandoned because it was "not expedient," he said to start them.

"Our experience in Atlanta was not so encouraging," he explained, referring to the testimony yesterday of G. W. McClure, Georgia state chairman, about the failure of the drive there.

"You did, though, contemplate organizing drives in 51 cities?" Senator Reed asked.

"Yes, sir."

"So if Governor Cox or any other man charges you had plans for organizing in 51 cities, he simply understood, didn't he?"

"Yes, sir."

Mr. Blair testified that one copy of 101 which he said was never issued, when the national ways and means committee rejected it, had gone out of the office. Either Harry H. Mather, Kansas ways and means chairman, or Paul C. Gilbert, Kansas director, had received it, he said.

Senator Reed attempted to bring out that the document which Mr. Blair said displaced form 101 was not intended for that purpose and asked how Harry S. Blossom, of Cleveland, who testified yesterday, had been able to follow the form 101 plan exactly if he had never seen it.

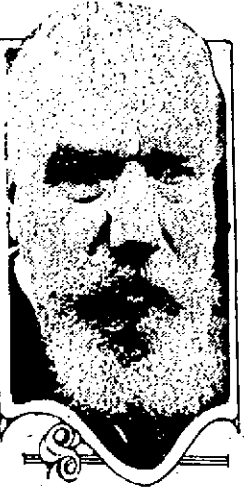

Mr. Blair explained that the campaign plan was commonly used for money drives for hospitals, Y. M. C. A.

King Victor Emmanuel Views The Dessolation Wrought By "Quake"

HUNGER STRIKE LORD IS HOLDING OUT WELL

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Lord Mayor MacSwiney, of Cork, who is incarcerated in Brixton prison, and has been on a hunger strike since August 12, passed a very bad night, and complained again this morning of dizziness, according to a bulletin issued early today by the Irish self-determination league. He also experienced numbness in his legs and arms, and a physician, who attended him, considered him much weaker than he was yesterday.

The lord mayor was visited last night by Father Patrick MacSwiney, cousin, who said he was surprised to find the prisoner so well. He expressed belief that the crisis would not come for three or four days.

The noon bulletin issued by the league, stated that signs of atrophy of the skin had appeared, and that as a consequence the mayor's arms were being massaged and languid.

After visiting Mayor MacSwiney last evening the prison doctor told his sister, Anne MacSwiney, that her brother was in a very grave condition, according to a statement issued by the league this morning, and that there could be only one end to his continued hunger strike. "The doctor asked Miss MacSwiney if nothing could be done. If she could not appeal to the mayor, she would not ask her brother to give up the principle of his life; that England had no right to imprison him and that he could not submit to England's imprisonment without acknowledging her right to deprive him of his liberty."

The doctor then suggested that the Republican body in Ireland be asked to order the lord mayor to surrender, and he, being a disciplined man, would obey. Miss Anne said the Republican parliament in Ireland could do no more under her brother to give up his fight than the English government during the late war could order a soldier to throw down his rifle and run away.

(BULLETIN)
ROME, Sept. 9.—(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS).—Another violent earthquake occurred in the Emilia district at 2:35 o'clock this morning, causing the loss of lives and important damage.

The communities suffering the most were Reggio, Spadellato, Busana, Tossano and Cavola. This morning's shock was more violent than that of Tuesday.

FIVAZZANO, ITALY, Sept. 8.—(BY CARRIER TO FLORENCE).—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy today viewed the ruins visited upon this city by the earthquake which Tuesday morning shook northern Italy to its center. He went into every quarter of the town and explored buildings whose crumbling walls threatened to fall if another tremor should come and talked with survivors, expressing his profound grief over the calamity that had befallen them and comforting those who were injured.

Years of war and of national stress have aged the Italian sovereign. His hair is much grayer than when he first visited the front where his troops were holding the rocky mountain ridges against the Austrians, and his whole figure seems to reflect the weight of care as well as the passing of time. Still he retains his kindly glance, and in the midst of desolation, he was calm today as he picked his way over fallen buildings. He was frequently the King of the Italians and thought only for his people, learning that some of the survivors had not tasted food for 24 hours because of the ruin and disorder resulting from the disaster, he ordered that all food in his private car be distributed among them.

During his walk through the city the king approached a stretcher on which was lying an aged woman, and gently touched her forehead. The woman opened her eyes and recognized the gray-uniformed figure before her as that of the monarch. Her eyes filled with tears and she struggled to kiss his hand, sobbing: "My little grandson, my little grandson."

Enquiry from Victor Emmanuel elicited the information that the woman's entire family, with the exception of herself and two small sons, had been buried in their home and killed. When the monarch promised to look after the children, joy shone through the tears in the eyes of the sufferer and she murmured:

"May the Madonna bless you. You are, indeed, good to me. You are a real father to your people."

Escapes From Bandits

MEXICO, Sept. 9.—Berlie C. Johnson, a British subject, who was kidnapped by Pedro Zamora, at Antuan on August 10, has escaped from the bandits and is on his way to Guadalajara under escort of government troops. It was announced at the war department last night.

W. A. Gardner, an American citizen, who also was a captive of Zamora, has arrived at Talpa, state of Jalisco, on his way to Guadalajara.

LOW SALARIES CAUSE MINISTERS TO RETIRE

OMAHA, NEB., September 9.—Retirement of preachers from the ministry because their pay is poor, was deplored by Bishop W. F. McDowell, of Washington, D. C., addressing a conference of Methodist ministers of Nebraska, here today.

Bishop McDowell said he had heard one minister say he was retiring because he could not "keep a suitable family on a minister's income," and declared that too many were getting out of the ministry for that reason.

BUT ONE AMENDMENT ON THE OHIO BALLOT

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 9.—Secretary of State Smith announced today that no constitutional amendments and but one referendum will appear on the ballots in Ohio at the November election. The one referendum will be on the third Crabbie prohibition enforcement measure.

Smith ruled that the following referendums, and one constitutional amendment shall not be put on the ballot. A referendum on act of the legislature giving women presidential suffrage; amendment to the constitution giving women the right to be commissioned notaries public; a referendum on action of the legislature ratifying the national woman's suffrage amendment; and referendums on two Crabbie prohibition enforcement bills.

The referendums on the measures applying to women as well as the constitutional amendment, are unnecessary, Smith held, because ratification by 30 states of the woman's suffrage amendment automatically gives them the privileges contained in all the measures.

The third Crabbie bill, on which there will be a referendum, contains provisions of the other two, and as a matter of fact, the other two were repealed by the legislature, after the referendum petitions had been filed against them, Smith's ruling says.

"I am not attempting to deprive the people of any of their constitutional rights, in refusing to submit these various measures, but, being unable to see what benefits could be derived by submitting them, and prompted by the desire to save the taxpayers the necessary expense of putting them on the ballot, I feel that I am serving the people in a very substantial way," Smith said.

The sum of $25,000 alone in postage will be saved, according to Smith.

Smith's ruling today straightens out a legal and technical snarl which arose over what disposition was to be made of the various measures.

Strikes Cause High Price Of Coal

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 9.—General railroad inefficiency and yardmen's strikes, necessitating employment of "green switching crews" has been the cause for the present high price of coal, according to an address last night by Maurice E. Langan, secretary to the state fair price commission before the convention of the Ohio Restaurant Association here. Langan scored officials for ignoring the offer of the switchmen to return to work if their seniority rights were restored. He also characterized statements of railroad that recent freight increases should be no excuse for increased prices as "propaganda to shift the blame for the ultimate increase in living costs from the railroads to the middle man."

President Wilson was appealed to in a resolution adopted, to take steps to relieve the coal shortage and the excessive price of fuel in Ohio.

Toledo was selected as the 1921 meeting place.

ALLEGED TRUST

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., September 9.—A suit to dissolve the California Associated Raisin Company, of Fresno, as a combination in restraint of trade, was filed in the United States district attorney, acting under instructions from Attorney General Fall.

Ninety percent of the nation's yearly production of 200,000 tons of raisins is controlled by the Fresno corporation, according to the complaint, which was prepared after a report on its activities was rendered the attorney general by the Federal Trade Commission.

BANDITS ROB OHIO BANK

YOUNGSTOWN, O., September 9.—State Chairman W. W. Durbin has sent two questionnaires to Democratic leaders in Mahoning county inquiring as to expenditures in Harry L. Davis campaign for governor and as to presidential campaign expenditures. Nearly a third of Davis' plurality in the state was returned from Mahoning county.

STREET CAR STRIKE

KALAMAZOO, MICH., September 8.—Kalamazoo's street car system was completely tied up this morning. The platform men refusing to operate the cars under the old wage scale which the Michigan Railway Company announced would become effective today.

McHugh's home was in Cleveland. His body was sent there today for burial. He was an overseas veteran.

GOVERNOR COX DEFENDS THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS IN MONTANA ADDRESS

HELENA, MONT., Sept. 9.—Arguments in behalf of the League of Nations adapted to affairs of the west were presented here today by Governor James M. Cox. Democratic presidential candidate. He outlined what he declared were practical material benefits to flow from the league.

"It has recently been stated," said the governor, "that the cost of one battleship would reclaim two million acres of land."

"Multiply this by forty-eight, the number of states, adopting the plan of one battleship for each state and you have a staggering total, and, of properly applied, the answer to the problem of housing in our cities, the answer to the question of increased production for sustenance of human life. The expenditure required in total would reclaim 150,000 square miles of waste. It would build ten permanently peopled states."

"Think of this in terms of reclamation of arid and waste lands. If you will, and think what it would mean to have one million men, ex-servicemen and thousands required in ship yards and armories entirely across the United States."

POLISH TROOPS SMASHING THE BOLSHEVIK FORCES

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Russian Bolshevik forces fighting against the Polish southwest of Brest-Litovsk have evacuated the city of Brzezinsk, 30 miles west of the Bug river, under pressure from Polish troops, says an official statement issued in Moscow yesterday and received here by wireless.

The statement admits Soviet troops in that region have been withdrawn to the eastern bank of the Bug river.

WARSAW, Sept. 9.—Successes by Polish troops against Russian Bolsheviks on the front south of Brest-Litovsk are reported in an official statement issued here. It is stated that Soviet forces operating between Kamionka-Strumilova and Byrk have been defeated with heavy losses and that Polish troops have crossed to the eastern bank of the Bug and occupied Jakubowka, crushing enemy forces concentrated in that vicinity. Prisoners numbering about 200, have been taken in this action. It is said.

Bolshevik columns attacking the Polish lines south of Byrk, have been repulsed by brilliant counter attacks, and fighting continues between Chodown and Ropollin. Polish forces which had been compelled to withdraw slightly in this section, have begun a new advance. The situation along the Dniester river is calm, the statement declares.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 9.—General Wrangel, head of the anti-Bolshevik forces in South Russia, is within twelve miles of Alexandrovsk, the headquarters of the field staff of the thirteenth Soviet army, dispatches received today report.

Many of the Soviet soldiers captured by General Wrangel's troops have been sent to the southern front from Siberia and the outlying provinces.

They are of unkempt appearance and clothed in rags with shoes made of untanned horsehide. The men have long shaggy beards and great shocks of hair and when fed ate ravenously.

When asked why they were fighting, the prisoners answered:

"We could not help it. We were made to fight."

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 9.—Little strength of the Bolshevik army on the Polish front was reduced by more than one-half as a result of the Polish counter-offensive, according to reports received here today in official circles.

The Soviet armies, the advices stated, have suffered heavily from desertions, the total number of unapprehended deserters in Russia being estimated at approximately one million with fifty thousand at large in Petrograd alone.

The reports also gave estimates as to the strength of the Soviet forces on other fronts. The number of men opposing the anti-Bolshevik leader, General Wrangel, in South Russia being given as 105,000, including non-combatants. General Wrangel's force is estimated at 140,000 men.

FLORENCE, Sept. 9.—Peace in the building trades here is once more accomplished with the announcement today that the strike of plumbers who quit May 1, has been settled. The men are granted their demand of $1.25 an hour, an increase of 25 cents.

PLUMBERS WIN

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 9.—Peace in the building trades here is once more accomplished with the announcement today that the strike of plumbers who quit May 1, has been settled. The men are granted their demand of $1.25 an hour, an increase of 25 cents.

Harding May Have Upset Front Porch Plan By His Showing During Minnesota Tour

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
(Copyright 1920 by Portsmouth Times)

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 8.—Senator Harding off the front porch, mingling with the folk in the crowd, exchanging jests and telling stories, is as likable personality as ever loaned over the rail of a private car.

His trip from Marion was interrupted by two back platform talks. Perhaps they should be called conversations. They weren't speeches. They were not about campaign issues but about general things like the wonders of America and the opportunities of our country, about rural life, and boyhood reminiscences, evoked by the sight of rural folk—a sort of rustic anthology.

Anybody traveling from Marion to St. Paul with Senator Harding on this, his first adventure off the front porch, couldn't but wonder why the Republican managers consented to Senator Harding's modest program of front porch speeches. These same managers are hoping that the effect of the journey on the senator himself will be to persuade the millions of the necessity of making more trips. He found himself fascinated by the experience. He didn't intend to make any speeches, he said, but he had expressed himself against back platforming, yet the appeal of the crowd was irresistible. And when Senator Harding comes out and shakes hands and manages to have a suitable greeting for everybody, whether the individual be the leader of a band or a farmer or a laborer or a war veteran, the sum total of his efforts is as good as any campaigner in recent years. The Republican managers think this trip will settle the thing—that Mr. Harding will make more trips hereafter. For even the truth is Senator Harding always was a girl campaigner. In other years he has stamped the country for the Republican ticket and he knows how to handle crowds.

Fundamentally the objection to a big campaign trip has been the necessity of making numerous speeches, and Senator Harding has been a firm believer in the idea of preparing a few addresses that could be distributed to the newspapers in advance and explained elaborately in the official offices of the country. This trip shows that Mr. Harding can meet the folk and make a good impression and keep his campaign discussions for the larger meetings. He will not talk extemporaneously on rural matters.

Meanwhile the Republican leaders are thinking up schedules for Senator Harding to follow, and the plan, tentative, though it is, seems to call for journeys east and west from Marion—not as far as the coast perhaps but to New York—all candidates usually do toward the end of October. It would be wise for him to get to Chicago on a general statesmanlike tour, and the Republican managers are over. In 1914 by entering that state before the primaries had begun the issue there.

By staying at home, then, far Mr. Harding struck a snag in California in 1914 by entering that state before the primaries had begun the issue there.

Weather

Don't you get tired of rain, rain, rain. Well, to confess the truth, I do myself, but it won't be very long until you'll be yelling for rain—people are so planned to get a small hail for the occasion but arrangements were entirely in the hands of the state fair board. The political organizations didn't like the senator in hand until afternoon.

The senator had mapped out his speech address with the utmost care and naturally didn't relish the idea of reading it to an outdoor crowd mixed among impulsively either because of inability to hear or special interest in other features of the program. Still that's what always happens at state fairs.

Senators are usually content with a look at the celebrity and then they want the sports program to start. Governor Cox ran into that sort of impatience at Milwaukee and also at the field games at Sheepshead Bay, New York, a fortnight ago. Senator Harding's effort to read a long discourse on agricultural matters to a crowd from the state fair grandstand was a severe test on his speech away from the front porch at Marion. Indeed were it not for the pleasant incidents along the route he would have gone home with an inclination against further trips like this.

He expressed his regret that the best committee didn't get a small hail for the occasion but arrangements were entirely in the hands of the state fair board. The political organizations didn't like the senator in hand until afternoon.

BEATS GASOLINE AT 15 CENTS A GALLON

New Invention Makes Ford's Run 31 Miles on Gallon of Gasoline and Start Easy in Coldest Weather. Other Cars Show Proportionate Savings.

A new carburetor which cuts down gasoline consumption of any motor, including the Ford, and reduces gasoline bills from one-third to one-half is the proud achievement of the Air Friction Carburetor Co., 851 Madison St., Dayton, O. This remarkable invention not only increases the power of all motors from 30 per cent to 50 per cent but enables every one to run slow on high gear. It also makes it easy to start a Ford or any other car in the coldest weather without previously warming the motor. With it you can use the very cheapest grade of gasoline and still get more power and more mileage than you now get from the highest test gasoline. May Ford owners say they now get on high as 45 to 50 miles to a gallon of gasoline. So sure are the manufacturers of the immense saving their new carburetor will make that they offer to send it on 30 days' trial to every car owner. As it can be put on or taken off in a few minutes by anyone, all readers of this paper who want to try it should send their name and address and make of car to the manufacturers at once. They also want local agents to whom they offer exceptionally large profits. Write them today.—Adm.

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly:—Will you please tell me how I can get the dividend on my insurance policy? I have been in the company for 15 years. Can I collect it or do they just add it onto the premium. I am in need of a little money now, and I could get this, it would help me out.

A SUBSCRIBER.
Any good insurance company will advance you money on your policy. Call on the local agent and tell him you need some money and he will arrange to get it for you.

Dear Miss Wise:—I got a new kitchen cabinet while back and everything I put into it tastes like the odor of varnish. Will you please tell me something that will remove this nasty odor?
TIMES READER.
I suppose you will just have to leave the cabinet open and let the odor wear off. Perhaps the man you bought it from could tell you how to get rid of it.

Dear Dolly:—I am 14 years old, weigh 117 pounds, am 5 feet 5-12 inches in height. Now am I too heavy, and tall, for my age? And Dolly, please tell me how to reduce my hips. I am so large I am ashamed of myself.
BROWN EYES.
You are a little too heavy for your height and age, but you will grow taller and thinner, let us hope, from now on. There is nothing you can do to reduce your weight without injuring your health.

Dear Dolly:—I am a young man 22 years old and have what my friends call a lovely head of curly hair. Now, Dolly, my hair has begun to fall out badly. Can you tell me what to do to keep it from falling out?
CURLY HEAD.

Where baldness, which sometimes occurs in quite young persons, is hereditary, it is doubtful if anything can be done to prevent or remedy it. The thorough use of a moderately stiff brush will greatly promote the health of the scalp and prevent the falling of hair. If the falling of the hair is not prevented by thorough brushing, some stimulating application may be made. Half an ounce of cantharides added to a quart of bay rum will answer better than most tonics. Thoroughly wetting the hair once or twice a week with a weak solution of salt water, will prevent it falling out. Another remedy is to apply once a week a wash made of one quart of boiling water, one ounce of pulverized horseradish, one-half ounce of powdered camphor. A little vaseline massaged into the scalp once or twice a week will also promote the growth of the hair.

Dear Miss Wise:—I would like to have a recipe for peach wine.

A READER.
Fench Wine.—To each gallon of peach juice, add one gallon of soft water, six pounds of brown sugar and 1-2 ounces of cream of tartar. After fermentation, take 4 ounces of kirsch, dissolved in one pint of wine, one teaspoon of bingness, to every four gallons of peach wine will clear it up nicely, when it must be drawn into clean casks or bottles.

HERB SAP MADE HIM FRISKY AS HE WAS YEARS AGO

Proved It By The Way He Grippled Me In Shaking Hands

By H. M. HODGE
LOUISVILLE, Ky.—John Haarman, 1127 East Fourth street, of this city, told me he is none of my business how old he is. He has been taking Herb Sap for the great cure and stomach medicine and he wanted to see my statistics about him.
"And I will say that since taking Herb Sap my clock has been turned back 20 years," he said.
"I did as commanded and must say that he didn't look like the same person as when he came to the drug store to see me a month before."
"A month ago," he continued, "when I called to see you, you'll remember I was in bad shape. I couldn't eat a blessed thing, as I had no appetite. My stomach had gone completely back on me. I had pains in my back and limbs, but in every part of my body, it seemed like. I was weak as a cat and so nervous that my whole body was wat from cold sweats. Just beads of it stood out on me incessantly. I was too run down to work a lick. I began to note a change though, in 48 hours after taking Herb Sap and now after having taken it for the second bottle, I feel just like I did when I was a young man. I'm hungry all the time. I'm right on my feet, every day, a new and a new power of sustained effort. Herb Sap is a blessing to me."
"Herb Sap is now obtainable at Fisher's Street Pharmacy or any reliable dealer in this vicinity. Your favorite drugstore, no matter where located, can get it for you."

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nerves and Depression—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stigall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay my little ones on the work. It was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any better. I couldn't eat, and sleep poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her."
"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. I can now testify to the good that Cardui did for me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many women's ailments.
If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all drug stores. E 35

Ninety Per Cent. of All House Dirt Hides In Carpets

Only The Hoover thoroughly removes this carpet dirt, the 90 per cent and heaviest part of house-cleaning. Therein lies the reason why The Hoover is the largest selling electric cleaner in the world.

For The Hoover beats out all nap-wearing, embedded grit which defies sweeping and air suction. The Hoover electrically sweeps up all clinging litter which laughs at air suction. Then The Hoover suction up this loosened dirt and the surface dirt.

The Hoover performs these three essential operations as speedily and easily as other cleaners merely surface-clean and partially sweep.

Also, with air attachments, The Hoover removes that last 10 per cent of house-dirt which lightly roasts on furniture, draperies, etc.

Popularity, for twelve years, has exceeded Hoover output, forced an ever-increasing production of The Hoover, but in spite of the fact that 3 times as many will be made during this year as last, demand still exceeds the supply. We advise ordering in advance to insure desired delivery.

Phil C. Jacks, husband of Mrs. Jacks, is well known here. While a resident of Huntington he dealt extensively in coal and oil shares. Since his removal to Charleston, he has been manager of the Charleston Laundry Company and at the head of coal mining interests.

Mrs. Jacks had been in ill health for two years. Two weeks prior to her strange disappearance Sunday, her sister, Miss Virginia Bulger, of Chicago, was summoned to Charleston to assist in caring for the patient. At the Jacks home, Miss Bulger was the constant companion of Mrs. Jacks until the night of her disappearance, when she was permitted to "go to a store." She failed to return and the search was taken up.

Mrs. Jacks is survived by her husband and two children.

Mr. Jacks is well known here and was at one time identified with the Huntington team in the Ohio State League.

Close Primary In Georgia

ATLANTA, GA., Sept. 8.—Returns tabulated by newspapers indicated that a second primary might be necessary to settle the gubernatorial contest, none of the four candidates appearing to have a majority of the county unit votes. Figures compiled by the constitution showed Clifford Walker, former state attorney general, leading with 178 votes, former United States Senator Thomas W. Hardwick, second, with 166, John R. Holder, third with 12, while W. R. Brown appeared to have none.

The American Legion opposed both Watson and Hardwick during the campaign, denouncing their war records.

On the face of estimates received from eight congressional districts where there were contests the Journal predicted that all representatives seeking renomination had been successful although several races were close.

Women did not participate in yesterday's primary under a ruling by a subcommittee of the state Democratic executive committee. The Democratic nomination in Georgia for any office is considered equivalent to election.

"IT'S TOASTED"

LUCKY STRIKE cigarette—it's toasted. Lucky Strike tobacco—it's toasted. Both are toasted. You cannot get the remarkable and unusual flavor of toasted Burley tobacco in any other brand.

How is it that this toasting process preserves so successfully the original Burley flavor? Because it's sealed in.

Take the case of the bee and the honey. The bees have the right idea. To lock in that fragrant and delightful flavor of clover honey they put a thin coating of wax over the whole honey-comb.

You know yourself that honey can stand unbroken on a shelf for months or years, and be just as good when it's used.

And that's what happens with the Burley tobacco used in making Lucky Strike.

In each Burley leaf there are little pores like a sponge. In the heat of toasting these pores are sealed. The Burley flavor is there, inside.

When you light your Lucky Strike cigarette or your pipe full of Lucky Strike tobacco the heat releases the Burley flavor for your benefit.

ITALY FACING INDUSTRIAL CRISIS, WORKMEN TAKING OVER PLANTS

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Friday will be a critical day in the history of the movement of Italian metal workers which has resulted in the occupation of many large industrial plants in that country, says the Milan correspondent of the Herald, organ of labor. On that day, the General Confederation of Labor meets in Milan, and if no decision is reached by then, the correspondent says, immediate action may be taken by workers.

"The ultimate aim of the federation of metal workers, as well as the confederation of labor," he declares, "is socialization of industry, and this aim, now almost within their grasp, may at any moment overshadow claims for wages."

"Friday may well see an extension of the soviet principle to other industries of Italy."

Ashland	1	2	.333

The final street ball game will be the scene of what promises to be a hot conflict Saturday when the Ashland Solvay team comes for a clash with the local Solvay champions for the second combat of the interesting series for the Solvay championship.

Portsmouth triumphed over the Ashland outfit in the former battle, 9 to 4, the contest being staged at Ashland a few weeks ago but the locals lost to the Ironton crew, which is now leading the race, through its two victories gained over Portsmouth and Ashland and one defeat administered by the latter team.

The Ashland warriors are coming well fortified to make a strong bid for a victory here next Saturday as a defeat will mean their elimination from the race and one great contest is anticipated with every inch of the way contested. This means that the local champions must present their strongest front and their pitching ace, Doug Engelman will no doubt perform on the mound with James wearing the big mitt.

No admission will be charged and Umpire Buck Yeager will set the two teams to work at 2:30.

The schedule calls for two games between each of the three teams and provides that the two highest clubs then fight it out for the championship.

The Saturday fray here will leave but one game on the schedule and this will be the meeting between the locals and Ironton at Ironton on Saturday, Sept. 18.

Fish Located By Seaplanes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—As a result of patrols maintained by naval seaplanes, Chesapeake bay fishermen are making the biggest haul on record. Reports today to the navy department from the commandant of the naval air station at Hampton Roads said the patrols had proven "indefatigable" to the fishing industry in those waters.

Immense schools of fish are spotted almost daily by the seaplanes, it was reported, and fishing fleets are given the location by radio communication or if in sight, by flag signals.

APPAREL ECONOMY URGED BY PALMER

Boston, Aug. 11.—(Special).—A communication received today by United States District Attorney Gallagher from the Department of Justice at Washington says that manufacturers of men's wear are conducting a campaign of propaganda designed to hold up high prices and even to further increase prices if possible.

Apparently, the communication says, the so-called manufacturers' guarantee against decline and the closing down of some factories are part and parcel of a well-laid plan. The Department says it had hoped that the manufacturers and jobbers in men's wear would follow the lead of their associates in women's wear line, but since they have not, the Department cannot rest idle.

Men are advised to buy only absolutely necessary apparel, to make their old clothes do, to understand and spread the idea that the best interests of our country require economy.

of campaign was appended and asked for a copy of that plan.

"Why, that was Form 101," Mr. Blair said, but later withdrew his answer on the ground that he had misunderstood the question and declared that in spite of the statement in the substitute document to campaign plan was attached to it.

Senator Reed kept up his fire on the witness and finally obtained assent to propositions that the national ways and means committee appointed the chairmen, then sent paid workmen to add these chairman and finally taking money raised by these agents approved their acts.

"Then he was asked, if instructions had been issued to slow up because of the revelations before the committee."

"Not to slow up but to speed up," said the witness. "As a matter of fact subscriptions have been increasing since Governor Cox made his charges to such an extent that I think he really should be flayed with my paid workers."

"If you approve his work that makes me unanimous," said Senator Reed. "For we think he is doing a great work."

The examination turned back to quotas of various cities and Senator Reed read from the official bulletin sent out by Mr. Blair's office to fund workers and asked him to reconcile statements therein with his figures and those given by Fred W. Upham, national treasurer of the party.

The questioning turned to Ohio, but the witness said he knew little about the quotas in that state and referred the committee to John Kelly, of Columbus, chairman of the state ways and means committee.

Mr. Blair excepted Columbus, remembering that its first quota was $55,000, but that after it had raised $55,000, the figure was placed at $100,000.

"That is the figure Governor Cox gave, is it not?" asked Senator Reed.

"Well he ought to know," retorted Mr. Blair. "He is right there in Ohio and the city quotas are public property there. This campaign is not being kept under a bushel."

Mr. Blair said he disapproved underwriting of city quotas and was then asked to explain a "flash from the field" in August 16 bulletins, which stated:

"Cincinnati business men have underwritten that city's quota, the amount to be delivered by September 1."

"Is that the truth?" asked the senator.

"I consider that just 'bull' said Mr. Blair.

"What is the difference between 'bull' and 'truth'?" pressed the senator.

"Bull is expanded truth," declared the witness and the argument lasted until Senator Keyser rapped for order.

The witness said there may have been a letter from Cincinnati employing the term "underwritten" but that he did not consider such a letter something upon which money could be based.

rowed and he added that such a possibility was the essence of underwriting.

A recess for luncheon was taken. An alleged attempt by Charles R. Boeschenstein, Democratic national committeeman for Illinois, to solicit campaign funds from a postmaster, was presented to the committee at second hand by William O. Farlow, of Augusta, Illinois, a Hancock county farmer. Mr. Farlow's testimony and evidence consisted of five letters addressed to Joseph H. Coffman, postmaster at Augusta, and a written statement from the latter certifying that he had given the letters to Mr. Farlow.

The first letter was dated January 22, there was another March 4, and three in April. All were signed with Mr. Boeschenstein's name and dated at his home town of Edwardsville. The missives emphasized that "contributions must be voluntary."

Farlow said the postmaster was a progressive and added that he was himself a Republican, "and proud of it." Mr. Blair was next on the stand and presented a document labeled "confidential information for regional directors" of the Republican financial drive. The witness said the information was confidential because it was issued nearly a year ago, and at that date it was desirable to keep knowledge of Republican plans from the opposition.

Mr. Blair then turned in a list of paid workers supplementing that turned in last night. They proved to be assistants to state directors in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, and two general traveling representatives working out of the Chicago headquarters. These latter were Frank Alvis and C. A. Fenner. For Illinois, B. A. Hahn and M. B. Thweat, of Peoria, and W. E. Stokes, of Chicago, were named; for Indiana, F. M. Dickerman and F. L. Sims and for Ohio, R. O. Atkinson, now stationed at Cincinnati.

Mr. Blair then was asked to name cities in which special agents were located and recalled Boston, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo, Akron, Youngstown and Springfield, Ohio, and Detroit. He said there were about twenty in all.

Mr. Blair said the Columbus campaign had yielded about $50,000. Dayton, he said, had not been fruitful ground nor had Springfield. He said he knew of no campaigns in Zanesville, Sandusky, Hamilton, Steubenville, Middletown and other cities of that class aside from the usual county campaigns. Mr. Verity, steel manufacturer, was mentioned as having charge in some of these centers. The witness had an indistinct recollection of a campaign of some sort in Portsmouth.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—The senate committee investigating presidential campaign expenditures today called more witnesses cited by E. H. Moore, personal representative of Governor Cox, as men who could give detailed information concerning the $15,000,000 campaign fund, which the Democratic candidate has charged the Republican national committee was trying to raise.

Yesterday's sessions, which ran into last night, were devoted largely to questioning Harry M. Blair, assistant to Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican national committee. Many of the queries were directed at Form 101, one of the bits of evidence offered by Governor Cox, to substantiate his claim that more than $1,000 was being collected from individuals.

Mr. Blair, in his testimony, admitted that he had drawn up Form 101 and approved its use, but when the ways and means committee of the Republican campaign organization saw it, they forbade its use, because Will H. Hays, Republican national chairman, had declared contributions exceeding $1,000 would not be accepted from any individual.

After the names of paid employees of Mr. Blair's organization, together with their salaries, had been obtained, Senator Reed, of Missouri, said:

"I've established that the Republican national committee has the most extravagant pay roll that a committee ever had."

Sensor Reed, of New Jersey, interrupted to read testimony of W. D. Jamieson, Democratic assistant treasurer, that the pay roll of his party organization amounted to $15,000 a month. It was learned, from Mr. Blair, that his pay roll amounted to $22,000 a month.

"Some of my men have been offered from 100 to 150 percent more for church work," Blair said. "The interference between the two is that the Republican national committee has the most extravagant pay roll that a committee ever had."

"It Did Wonders For Me." This Cincinnati Woman Says In Praising The New Medicine.

"I was down to 105 pounds and my health was very poor when I started taking Volatonic, but I began to improve right away," said Mrs. Hattie Routledge, 514 Hopkins street, Cincinnati, O.

"For a long time I suffered with nervousness and stomach trouble," she continued. "I didn't have any appetite and ate scarcely anything at all. What I did eat didn't agree with me. I belched and bloated after meals. I kept losing weight also until I must have lost 20 or 25 pounds altogether."

"My nerves were so out of order that I couldn't sleep at night. I just tossed and rolled about the bed. As a result, I felt tired out all the time."

"Finally, I started taking Volatonic and have now taken fully a dozen bottles. It has done wonders for me. The first improvement I noticed was that my appetite was increasing. Then Volatonic helped my stomach so much that I could eat about anything I wanted. I'm able to eat real meals now without any belching or bloating and I'm gaining weight as a result."

"Volatonic helped my nerves also. I sleep soundly every night."

"All the weakened, run-down feeling I used to have is gone and instead of that I feel strong and well and the housework is easy."

"Don't let nagging ailments sap your vigor and vim. Get a bottle of Volatonic TODAY and get back strength and good health as thousands of others have done."

DYSPEPTIC DIET NO LONGER NECESSARY

The old plan of prescribing strict diet for dyspeptic and stomach sufferers is no longer popular. Modern medical men partly because of its weak effect but mostly because of the discovery that nearly all stomach trouble is due to excessive acidity. The organs of digestion are themselves all right but the delicate stomach irritate and cause sourness and premature food fermentation. The logical treatment, therefore, is to get rid of the acid, when natural painless digestion will follow.

For this purpose a teaspoonful or four of Bismuth Magnesia to a little water neutralizes the acid stops the fermentation of the food, dispels the gas and thus permits the stomach to proceed with its work without hindrance. Owing to its prompt and certain action Bismuth Magnesia, which is obtainable from any druggist, in either tablet or powder form, should always be used in addition to the other forms of magnesia, such as the milks, chlorides, carbonates or oxides. Stomach sufferers are advised to try this plan for three weeks and note results.

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, September 9.—Little change from recent irregular conditions was shown by the movement of prices at the quiet opening of today's stock market, although signs of further ease of money induced moderate short comings. American International was the strongest feature, rising almost one point and some of the steel, copper and railroads were fractionally higher, but otherwise slight recessions ruled. Assurance of the successful flotation of the new French loan to be offered today brought no relief to foreign exchange. British remittance again receding.

Shares covered more extensively before noon, announcement of the large over-subscription to the French loan exerting a favorable influence. Shipping continued to lead, United Fruit rising 7 points and American International which is still to have large holdings of United Fruit, increased its gain to 2 points. Sharp rallies occurred in steel and pan-American petroleum and other oils and substantial improvement was shown by leaders of the steel and equipment groups, also kindred specialties. Buying of rails was confined to the investment division. Call money was unchanged at 7 percent but exchange on London remained heavy on cables indicating more acute industrial conditions in England and Italy.

The higher trend of prices in the stock market today was traceable to the successful offering of the new French loan and lower rates for money. Sales approximated 400,000 shares.

The closing was firm.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Maria Ashbaugh
After several weeks' suffering with paralysis and complications, Mrs. Maria Ashbaugh, widow of the late Samuel Ashbaugh of Waverly, closed her eyes in everlasting sleep Wednesday at 6:45 p. m. the final announcement coming at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Powers, 816 Offshore street.

Mrs. Ernest Powers, 816 Offshore street, was well liked by all who knew her and will be missed by her many loved ones. The deceased was 72 years old last January, and came to this city only a short time ago to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Powers. Besides one son, Mrs. Catherine Dick of London, O., she left to mourn her death the following children, Merrill Ashbaugh of Columbus, Mrs. Ernest Powers and Mrs. Kate Powers both of 816 Offshore street, and Mrs. Eva Dick of Waverly. Funeral services will be conducted from the home on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock with Rev. A. L. Marling of the Franklin Avenue M. E. church in charge. The remains will be taken to Waverly for burial.

Mrs. Ada Ratcliff
Mrs. Ada Ratcliff, one of the oldest women in Huntington, died at the Keeler-Hatfield hospital late last night. She was believed to be nearly 100 years old and though she had been an invalid since last fall when she fell and broke her hip, she retained her marvellous mental faculties until the end.

Mrs. Ratcliff was born near Portsmouth, O., and spent all of the hundred years of her life in this section of the Ohio Valley. She was the daughter of Col. George Chapman, a widely known Gallipolis resident.

P. H. S. GRID WARRIORS RESPOND TO CALL

Football came into its own again yesterday at the local High School when the first call of the season was issued by Coach B. F. McComb.

Between 60 and 70 students responded and listened to Coach McComb expounding the methods and rules he will enforce in coaching the red and blue warriors.

Among the half hundred candidates present appeared many Freshmen, including with enthusiasm. It is probable that Freshmen and Sophomore teams will be organized as well as varsity and second string squads making four separate squads of grid-iron. In this way, the coaching of the men, and selection of the varsity team will be made more practical.

It is planned that Coach McComb will be assisted by Principal H. H. Edwards a four sport graduate of Ohio University and G. W. Hammond, manual training teacher, who played football with Michigan under Coach Yost. This is the first year for any of these members of the P. H. S. faculty.

So it will be seen, that from a coaching standpoint P. H. S. can be excelled by none of its opponents. It is probable that Coach McComb will handle the Varsity squad while Messrs. Edwards and Hammond will handle the blue and second string men.

No prediction, with any degree of certainty can yet be made with regard to what kind of a team Coach McComb and his assistants will turn out but it is a fact that the material on hand is abundant and stocky.

Anderson, Bryant, Hopkins, Staten, Moritz, Morton, Cunliffe and Grimes, eight of the main stays of the 1919 varsity team have graduated. The nucleus of the 1920 eleven will be Muller, Wilson, Strittmatter, Frowine, Cressy, and Roth, all lettered men. The most promising material to fill the vacancies caused by graduation seems to be Muller, Strittmatter, Frowine, Cressy, and Roth, all lettered men. The most

The backfield this year, judging from the showing made last year, will be built probably around Frowine at quarter, with Muller and Wilson on the halves and Strittmatter at full. The ends may be Weidner, Kiehnauer and Spencer the center without any doubt Cressy, unless he goes out for a backfield position. On the guard and tackle positions, Chabot, Heer, Cunliffe, J. Scott, Oiler, Roth and a host of other material is available. First practice will be held at Sixteenth and Findlay streets this afternoon, when preliminary practice will be gone through.

The schedule so far as completed presents an outlook for games with some of the strongest teams in this section of the country, and it will take some tall hustling by the grid-ironers to get down to actual work. If they are to be prepared for the initial fracas with Jackson on the home gridiron, Sept. 25th.

Here are the seven games already contracted for:

Sept. 25—Jackson, here.
Oct. 2—Open.
Oct. 9—Open.
Oct. 16—Steel 111, Dayton, there.
Oct. 23—Rio Grande College, here.
Oct. 30—Huntington, there.
Nov. 6—Marquette, here.
Nov. 13—Athens, there.
Nov. 20—Ashtabula, here.
Thanksgiving game open.

Negotiations are being carried on with Parkersburg, Charleston, Pikeville College, Greenfield, Jronton and other schools for games to fill the open dates.

going to the visitors, 7 to 3. Both teams worked recruit pitchers, Zim for Pittsburgh and Ferguson for New York.

Babe Ruth satisfied the crowd in the ninth inning when he made a home run. He poked the ball over the right field fence for the longest hit ever seen at Forbes field.

In the second inning Eddie, the Yankee center fielder, tripped and then scored on a wild pitch. In sliding into home plate, he caught his foot on the rubber. At first it was thought that he had sprained his leg, but physicians who attended him declared that Eddie's right ankle had been fractured and that he would be out of the game for the remainder of the season.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 8—Anthony Downey, Columbus middleweight, knocked out Tommy Hansen, St. Louis, in second round of scheduled 10 round bout here last night. Eddie O'Dowd, Columbus, knocked out Mickey Brooks of Cleveland, also a flyweight, in the fourth round of a scheduled six round bout.

Steve O'Neil of the Cleveland Indians advances one reason for the increase in hitting. The batter nearly always has a new white ball to hit at, he says. He says batters take advantage of the new pitching rule regarding discoloration of the ball and any time there is a new spot on the ball they demand a new ball, consequently it's easier to get hits. Simple enough. The poor pitchers can't kick. If they did, the batters would claim they had purposely put the tiny spot on the ball, whereupon the pitcher would be subject to suspension.

Bloomington beat Moline, 4 to 3, Tuesday, and won the pennant in the Three League by two points. Evansville won both games yesterday and was moved out by Bloomington by two points.

WILL HUNT BIG GAME

Lafayette Taylor, McDermott alone and enthusiastic big game hunter, who left a few days ago on another hunting expedition in the far north, writes home folks that he is encountering much cold weather and which has delayed the progress of his trip.

Mr. Taylor expects to penetrate into the wilds of British Columbia a thousand miles further than he did on his previous hunt in that country in quest of big game. He expects to be absent several weeks and is banking on bringing home some rare specimens of wild game to add to his splendid collection in his museum at McDermott.

JUST DOPE

The St. Louis Cardinals have named Pitcher Dodson from the Port Smith Western Association club under an option for supplying players to Charlie Schmidt's team. It is also announced that outfielder Clarence Mueller will be recalled from Port Smith by the Cardinals. Dodson has been one of the winning pitchers of the W. A. under Schmidt's good handling, while Mueller has been a real sensation as a batter and a base runner.

While in the city Manager Ricker, of the Cardinals, made the statement that Dillhoefer was the best young catcher in the National League and would develop into another Ray Schalk in a year or two. He says Dillhoefer has a wonderful arm, knows how to handle pitchers, can hit and runs bases extremely well for a catcher.

JACKSON, Sept. 8.—When Jack Dempsey went to the train this morning, he was accompanied by his manager, Jack Kearns, and promoter Fitzsimmons and his wife. They drove to the station in Dempsey's $12,000 automobile and that motor car makes possible a pretty bit of information for the public. When Dempsey got ready to jump aboard the train, Mrs. Fitzsimmons, somewhat alarmed, said to him:

"Jack, what will we do with the car?"

"Just keep it. It is yours," was Dempsey's answer as he hopped aboard, a smile lighting up his face.

The powers of attraction of Dempsey and Billy Mike in ring combat is evidenced by the fact that the gate receipts for yesterday's bout at Floyd Fitzsimmons Arena drew a gate of $133,000. That great amount of money made the fight profitable for everybody concerned. The war tax amounted to more than $4,000.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 8.—When the champions arrived in St. Louis last Thursday they were greeted by the countless predictions in the local papers that the Cards would do to them just what they had done to the Robins and the Glavs. But our boys, playing strictly off the umpires and playing with fierce determination, won three out of four games over there and then brought the Cardinals back with them, and administered two more defeats to them in the Labor Day contests.

By losing five out of six from the Robins until the team advanced to first place, and goes East in that position.

The Reds now have quite an advantage from the fact that they have lost fewer games than any of their rivals. This is an extremely important factor at this stage of the season, with less than four weeks to go. It means that all our boys have to do is to keep along even with the other contenders and they cannot help but win out. They have no ground to make up, but simply have to hold their own. In fact, they can lose a game or two more than either of the other contenders and still finish in front. This is quite a bunch for the club at this time, and the players realize it very well and will do all they can to retain their present advantage. If they can come into Brooklyn and New York next week in their present position, it will take a lot of beating to put them out of the race.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 8.—A crowd of more than 25,000 fans witnessed an exhibition game between the New York Yankees and the Pittsburgh Pirates here yesterday, the victory going to the visitors, 7 to 3. Both teams worked recruit pitchers, Zim for Pittsburgh and Ferguson for New York.

Babe Ruth satisfied the crowd in the ninth inning when he made a home run. He poked the ball over the right field fence for the longest hit ever seen at Forbes field.

THE ULTIMATE CONSUMER

THE federal trade commission "finds" manufacturers of farm machinery have advanced prices 73 per cent since 1914.

It recommends an indictment of corporations and firms engaged in the particular line because of conspiracy to raise prices. If the facts alleged be true it shows how easy it is to choke a dog without using butter.

The putative conspirators used no such crude and lawless methods of either open or secret agreement to enter into the elevation. They met and considered costs of production, offering many imaginative and problematical expenses and agreed there should always be "a reasonable" profit on cost, just that and nothing more. Then to keep faith with each other they exchanged costs and selling prices. A brotherly and lovely practice, spontaneously carried on without understanding, express or implied—but the goods steadily continued to mount, and, strange, to say they mounted in exact harmony so as to produce a beautiful symphony of more income and more profits.

Perhaps, the advances were justified by conditions, it would at least seem not to be totally uncalled for as other commodities have advanced, but how it works was illumined to us today, by a farmer, who told us that he was asked $185 for an implement that before the war he bought for $75. No, that doesn't conclusively show the retail dealer was a profiteer, though he is in the business for what he can get out of it. It is easy enough to see where he might not make any more and even not as much as $185 as he did at $75. For mind you the increase by the manufacturers was not a level of 33 per cent, but an average of 73 per cent, as stated by the commission. So some lives were raised far more than others, and may be some scarcely at all. That means increases of more than a hundred percent in instances and considerably less than a hundred in some instances. So when the retailer pays over one hundred percent advanced article he had to charge his customer not only the advance, in order to get return of his investment and a profit thereupon.

Here is where we see the consumer, the final owner, bearing the entire burden eventually and it is always that way.

The American girl, and woman too for that matter, is in luck. A two million dollar catch of seals has just been made off the Pribilof islands. That means a retail cost of two hundred million dollars, later on, but, just the same it assures the supply of summer furs.

Looks to us like that pug alias Dempsey might be arrested for taking money under false pretext. That wasn't a Labor Day fight with Mike, it was certain slaughter. And the fellow calls himself by the good Irish patronymic of Dempsey, Jack Dempsey, when his real name is Bill Harrison.

The St. Louis Cardinals, under the management of Branch Rickey, a Seoto county boy, were given a cordial welcome here, Tuesday, doubly so, it might be said—they handed the Reds two games the day before.

Can it be possible we have got this thing all wrong? Here we have been delivering man an excellent exhortation against careless and reckless automobile driving and now from the reports of accidents the fault thereof has been all the other way. We've got to get busy hereafter warning people it is altogether dangerous to try to jam an automobile off the highway.

The state fair was surely the biggest and best ever this year. And already there is talk of spending a million dollars to extend its facilities. Always this in this happy land. If a thing is a success you spend more money to keep it growing bigger and if it is a failure more money is called for to put it on its feet.

New-York - Day-By-Day

BY G. O. MONTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—"Snip the Rat" was pelted in Chatham Square the other night. The roar of the elevated drowned the sound of the shot and he was found by the entrance of a movie theatre. The picturesque subject was conferred by his consorts of the underworld.

He made his living "lifting leathers" in the subway and that was a profitable calling was evidenced by the stumpy rascal he left at the curb. His clothes came from a fashionable tailor on the avenue and that he had a taste for fine literature was discovered when a pocket volume of the essays of Anatole France was found in his coat.

His life was in a dark underground nest of Chinatown and he was a slave of the needle and the poppy, but he was also a philosopher and some manuscripts found in his room showed that he might have made his mark in the field of belles-lettres.

It was just 20 and the records show he and his Wolf often attended the opera, dressed in fine leathers, but "Snip" did not let his hours in pursuit of pleasure interfere with his more sordid profession. Several jewel robberies in the opera were traced to him.

He had much of the gift loosely defined as personality. As a salesman he once called on a prosperous downtown broker. His gilt tongue inspired the banker's interest and he invited him to a club for luncheon. They sat in a window overlooking Fifth Avenue.

As the waiter went away with the order "Snip" looked about him and across the street staring at him was a Central Office detective. When the banker's attention had been turned, "Snip" indignantly blushed his nose at the mention of the law.

When the banker went to settle the check he discovered his wallet missing.

Further search revealed his watch, a scarf pin and some other valuables also missing. "Snip" escorted him to a police station in an auto, but when the banker went inside "Snip" disappeared.

The next day a messenger delivered all the stolen articles. In it was a note which read: "I robbed you before you told me of your son. Particularly we were classmates at college. While you can afford to be robbed I cannot afford to disgrace my Alma Mater."

The illustrious Oscar of the Waldorf served the most expensive dinner ever served in New York just 20 years ago this week. It cost $12 a plate and the elegance of it was first-pressed in all of the leading journals the next day. The same dinner now would cost $39 a plate and Oscar says that it is a simple matter to prepare a $50 plate dinner. Oscar began as a waiter under the late George Boldt. Now he directs the destinies of the famous hotel. He has ten large scrapbooks filled with accounts of his celebrity exploits.

Cigarettes are now served with light luncheon during theatrical rehearsals. Directors were opposed to it at first, but after seeing the girls would sneak off to the dressing rooms and the call boys would have a difficult time getting them back until they had enjoyed a puff or so. The chorus ladies may also smoke between acts now—a privilege that was denied them until recently, although the men could smoke as much as they pleased.

Frank Harris, the radical New York editor and friend of Oscar Wilde, had a most discouraging academic career, according to the latest "Who's Who" it says: Harris, Frank, educated in England, Paris, Heidelberg, Strassburg, Göttingen, Berlin, Vienna and Athens (no degree).

The Diary of an Engaged Girl

CECIL FOLLOWS LINDSEY TO PARIS

Thursday—Cecil arrived today, and I managed to get out with him—at least I started out with her—and explained to her that I had promised to meet her at the Luxembourg for a just hot to wander round that place to my heart's content, no matter what happened.

And Cecil looked a bit worried when I told her of my plans for meeting Cecil, but then as she said, after a few moments' hard thinking, "you are old enough now to know what you are doing. Lindy dear." And in the end I had my way, and Cecil and her lover left me promising to pick me up again, sometime round nine o'clock in the evening, for I was to dine with Cecil.

The long sunny day before me, and when I saw Cecil's dancing black eyes laughing up into mine, over the statue of "Le Haisseur," some few moments later, I felt like hugging him, and so did he, I know. Saw it at one sweep, and we pitched each other's arms to make sure that we were sure enough standing in the Luxembourg gallery, together, of a sunny morning in early September! It was too good to be true.

What fun it was finding all our old loves on the various walls there, standing in hushed fervor before each and every favorite, and then beginning all over again.

Never even felt the pangs of hunger until way past two o'clock and then the gardens smiled at us so temptingly, when we got outside, that we couldn't move on for the love of looking, and walking in and about the grounds.

At two-thirty we found ourselves hungrily encoined in the Cafe Du Quartier, and I was too excited at the thought to be able to even give a thought to food or the menu card held out to me by the smiling waiter, who evidently saw that I was a new arrival to all of his Paris. And how kind they are to strangers in this little bijou of a city.

We ordered, and ate, and each mouthful seemed like so much manna to us both. The glass of sparkling wine that Cecil poured out for me, and that I tasted the whole world with, seemed truly like nothing less than the nectar of the gods. Our gods! Of Love, for Youth and Art. Voila!

I could hardly keep my feet still under the table—for they were fairly aching to explore and never stop. Yet

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

VISCOUNT CAVE Viscount Cave, who recently arrived in New York to attend as Great Britain's chief representative the imminent meeting of the American Bar Association, is one of the $30,000 a year lords of appeal, that is to say, one of the highest court of appeal in the British realm.

His name is not familiar to the people of the United States. For during the first two years of the war he acted as the principal legal adviser of the foreign office in all matters relating to contraband and to blockade, and it was largely owing to his tact, to his soundness of judgment and his breadth of view, that the blockade measures were applied in so very liberal a manner where American shipping was concerned.

Lord Cave's arduous work at the foreign office was done over and above his ordinary duties as solicitor general of England without additional emolument and from a purely patriotic desire to be of assistance in the war.

When Lloyd George formed his cabinet in the late fall of 1918 he entrusted the secretariat of state for the home department to Sir George Cave, and carried with it the responsibility for the preservation of law and order throughout the United Kingdom and the care and control of all enemy aliens in the country. Two years ago he was appointed to be a lord of appeal and at the same time was raised to the peerage as a viscount.

He is a son of the late Thomas Cave, M. P., belongs to a family that has been settled in Worcestershire since the beginning of the fifteenth century, is married to one of the Matthews of Crewkerne, in Somersetshire, is a Conservative in politics, has been in parliament since 1906, and was for a considerable time attorney general to the Prince of Wales, as well as a member of the latter's council. These two offices brought him into close and intimate contact with the reigning family and won for him in a very marked degree the favor of King George and Queen Mary.

There were so many places that I longed to see right away that I couldn't for the world have said which one I wanted to see first. It's persistent.

After we had finished the best lunch I had ever eaten, we wandered out into the sunlight again, and from the Du Messis we turned our steps into the Boule Mich, and walked along its banks for some time, looking in at all the small shops and art stores on the way.

Arrived at The Boulevard Montparnasse, dear to the heart of all artists, Cecil stopped, and then took me into one of his favorite cafes, The Brasserie de Lillax, which I found out afterwards is one of the most popular in the Latin quarter, and it is also where the young writers gather and write their verse, and squabble over the poetry of the future. It is also where Ernest Dowson wrote his famous lines, so well known to us all.

"I have been faithful to thee, Cynara, in my fashion."

Yes, right on the top of one of these tables did he improvise not only this, but many others.

It was such bliss to sit, as we did, and sip our liqueur and watch the fashioners stroll in and sit down at their particular tables, and if they were artists draw out their pencils and begin to sketch, either on paper or on the tops of the marble tables—anywhere! What cared they?

But I am so tired now from it all that I can write no more—and tomorrow—tomorrow is a new day. (To be continued.)

BILLY WHISKER

When the cook saw Billy with the lettuce that gentleman forgot what a hero Billy was, and angry that Billy had taken some of his precious lettuce cried:

"Hey! Drop that, you bobbled thief!" and threw a skillet at Billy. It hit the goat in the side with a thump, but Billy never stopped. He only ran on until he had gained the hold where his mother was and had given the nice cool lettuce to her, when he turned round to hurry away.

"Wait a minute Billy!" she called after him. "I want to talk to you."

"I haven't got time," Billy called back over his shoulder. "I've got a little business with the cook."

When Billy got back into the cook's galley, the cook was over in a corner reaching up for some larding powder that he kept on a high shelf. He stretched out just right for a good bump and Billy gave it to him.

"Great Scott!" cried the cook, and jumped up until his head bumped the shelf. He quickly turned around, but Billy had backed off and now jumped off for the man again. This time the man put out his hand and caught Billy by the horns firmly enough to keep the bump Billy gave him in front from smashing him. Billy, however, jerked away and backed off for another bump, and the man, jumping up, grabbed the shelf with the foolish notion of climbing out of range. He could not have been in a better position for another bump behind, so Billy gave him that one, and he dropped loose from the shelf, yelling for help with all his might. In dropping, he turned around, and this time Billy landed with all his weight right in the middle of the man's appetite.

If this time the cook had lost his head so that all he could do was to spread his arms and legs like an old-fashioned dazed and yell for help. Several men came running down the ladder and the foremost one was Hans Zug with his whip. Hans had just been over to straighten out a fight in the goat's pen, and when he saw one of his goats busting the cook, he never stopped to think that it was the same Billy he had been petting and praising, so he hauled off and gave Billy a mighty slash with his sharp leather whip. Billy got through with the cook in a hurry!

So Hans Zug, who had been following him around and patting him on the back and calling him nice goat, and fine goat and brave goat, was ready to start in again, was he? Well, Billy would show him! Take a flash he wheeled and was after Hans.

"Doanrvetter!" cried Hans and turned to run.

The men who had followed him down the steps were in the way, however, and Hans ran square into them. A second later Billy ran into Hans with enough force to send him sprawling among the men and four or five of them went to the floor grunting, with Hans on top. Before Billy could back off for another stroke, Hans turned quickly and just in time to grab Billy by the fore legs. At the same moment the cook caught Billy by the hind legs, and these two carried him upstairs to the deck.

"Over her goes," yelled the angry cook.

"Sure!" said Hans. "He done it to me Kin! swi! dret!"

As Hans counted his one, two, three in German, they gave three mighty swings and with the last one they let go.

"Splish!" went Billy into the sea! Tomorrow to Billy next? Tomorrow's story tells.

BOTH PARTIES PAY BIG SALARIES

G. O. P. PAYS $22,000 MONTHLY,
DEMOCRATS UNDER THIS MARK;
FUND PROBE GETS INTERESTING

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—The senate committee investigating presidential campaign expenditures today called more witnesses cited by E. H. Moore, personal representative of Governor Cox, as men who could give detailed information concerning the $15,000,000 campaign fund, which the Democratic candidate has charged the Republican national committee was trying to raise.

Yesterday's sessions, which ran into the night, were devoted largely to questioning Harry M. Blair, assistant to Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican national committee. Many of the questions were directed at Form 101, one of the bits of evidence offered by Governor Cox, to substantiate his claim that more than $1,000 was being collected from individuals. Mr. Blair, in his testimony, admitted that he had drawn up Form 101 and approved its use, but when the ways and means committee of the Republican campaign organization saw it, they forbade its use because Will H. Hays, Republican national chairman, had declared contributions exceeding $1,000 would not be accepted from any individual.

After the names of paid employees of Mr. Blair's organization, together with their salaries, had been obtained, Senator Reed, of Missouri, said: "I've established that the Republican national committee has the most extravagant pay roll that a committee ever had."

Senator Edge, of New Jersey, interjected to read testimony of W. D. Jamison, Democratic assistant treasurer, that the pay roll of his party organization amounted to $18,000 a month. It was learned from Mr. Blair, that his pay roll amounted to $22,000 a month. "Some of my men have been offered from 100 to 150 percent more for church work," Blair said. "The inter-church world movement offered two $250 a week each, and unlimited expense accounts."

"Do church organizations pay more than political organizations?" asked Senator Kenyon.

"Yes," replied Blair. The questioning also developed that the western headquarters had no authority over seven eastern states in which funds were raised under the direction of Colonel William Boyce Thompson, of New York, and James G. Malone, the eastern treasurer.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Declaring that during his 16 years as a Y. M. C. A. secretary he had "gained a reputation as a money raiser rather than for piety," Harry M. Blair, assistant to Treasurer Fred Upham, and the real money getting head of the Republican national ways and means committee, defended the G. O. P. campaign against Governor Cox's charges before the senatorial investigating committee yesterday.

Blair was called to the stand late in the afternoon, after Dudley R. Blossom of Cleveland, had thrown a bomb into the Republican ranks by testifying that the quota he was instructed to raise for Cuyahoga county and the city of Cleveland was $100,000 for the Republican national committee. It was the first direct evidence the senatorial committee received in support of the $15,000,000 fund charges of the Democratic candidate.

NEW ENGLANDER SUCCEEDS ROOSEVELT AS SECRETARY DANIELS'S ASSISTANT

Gordon Woodbury of New Hampshire has been appointed assistant secretary of the navy to succeed Franklin D. Roosevelt. He is a lawyer, a former newspaper publisher and a grand nephew of the late Levi Woodbury, secretary of the navy in the administration of President Jackson.

Rail Bill Congressman Defeated For Renomination

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 9.—According to returns compiled tonight by the Milwaukee Journal from yesterday's state-wide primary, his victorious opponent was Joseph E. Beck, of Waukegan, who was supported by Senator Robert M. La Follette.

U. S. District Attorney Cline, and the report that he was considering the demand of E. W. Moore, personal representative of Governor Cox, that a grand jury investigate the discrepancies in the testimony of witnesses. Prosecutor Cline admitted he was following the testimony closely.

Possibility of the United States senate being called on to rule on the privilege of newspaper writers to refuse to reveal the source of their information developed when C. C. Brainerd, Washington correspondent of the Brooklyn Eagle, was on the stand.

Brainerd admitted that he wrote the story of the G. O. P. plan for a $10,000,000 fund which appeared in that paper last January, and which Moore testified yesterday was Governor Cox's first basis for his charges.

He declined to tell the name of the man who gave him the information, and Senator Donahoe demanded that he be made to testify.

"Other newspaper men have been before this committee and were not required to tell the source of their information," Senator Fletcher, Republican, insisted, but Senator Donahoe got the matter before the United States senate at its next session for a positive ruling. Brainerd withdrew a clever grilling by Senator Reed, Democrat, without being trapped into telling the name of the Republican official who had given him the $10,000,000 fund story.

Close Primary In Georgia

ATLANTA, GA., Sept. 9.—Returns tabulated by newspapers indicated that a second primary might be necessary to settle the gubernatorial contest, none of the four candidates appearing to have a majority of the county unit votes. Figures compiled by the constitution showed Clifford Walker, former state attorney general, leading with 118 votes, former United States Senator Thomas W. Hardwick, second, with 105, John R. Holder, third with 12, while W. H. Brown appeared to have none.

The American Legion opposed both Walker and Hardwick during the campaign, denouncing their war records. On the face of estimates received from eight congressional districts where there were contests the Journal predicted that all representatives seeking re-election had been successful although several races were close.

Women did not participate in yesterday's primary under a ruling by a subcommittee of the state Democratic executive committee. The Democratic nomination in Georgia for any office is considered equivalent to election.

Three Killed In Explosion

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 9.—Two townsmen brought the disabled ore steamer Empire City into Cleveland early today with the port side of the boiler house blown off, the result of a boiler tube explosion last night which caused the death of three men.

Anthony Cobb of New York and F. J. O'Neil of Chicago were killed instantly, Harry Cooper of Cleveland died in a hospital from wounds.

The Empire City is a sister ship of the Superior City, recently lost with twenty-nine lives twenty miles west of Sault Ste. Marie.

Will Help The G.O.P. Campaign

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 9.—David R. Jones, Cleveland, has been appointed executive secretary of the Republican state organization, according to an announcement made last night by State Chairman George H. Clark. Other appointments were: D. Q. Morrow, Hillsboro, secretary of the campaign committee, and Charles A. Jones, Columbus, director of publicity.

Tom P. Brown, who has been directing publicity, will be made editor-in-chief of the Ohio Republican, Clark said.

Escapes From Bandits

MEXICO, Sept. 9.—Dertle C. Johnson, a British subject, who was kidnapped by Pedro Zamora, at Antlan on August 10, has escaped from the bandits and is on his way to Guadalajara under escort of government troops. It was announced at the war department last night.

W. A. Gardiner, an American citizen, who also was a captive of Zamora, has arrived at Toluca, state of Jalisco, on his way to Guadalajara.

HUNGER STRIKE LORD IS HOLDING OUT WELL

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Lord Mayor MacSwiney, of Cork, who is incarcerated in Brixton prison, and has been on a hunger strike since August 12, passed a very bad night, and complained again this morning of dizziness, according to a bulletin issued early today by the Irish self-determination league. He also experienced numbness in his legs and arms, and a physician, who attended him, considered him much weaker than he was yesterday.

The lord mayor was visited last night by Father Patrick MacSwiney, a cousin, who said he was surprised to find the prisoner so well. He expressed belief that the crisis would not come for three or four days.

The noon bulletin issued by the league, stated that signs of atrophy of the skin had appeared, and that as a consequence the mayor's arms were being unswayed and bandaged.

FATAL RIOTS IN IRELAND

TULLOW, COUNTY CARLOW, Ireland, Sept. 9.—Armed and masked men attacked four police officers here last evening. Two of the constables were shot dead and another seriously wounded.

GALWAY, COUNTY GALWAY, Ireland, Sept. 9.—A constable was shot dead in the railway station here last night. Three of his assailants were killed and one of two wounded.

Fish Located By Seaplanes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—As a result of patrols maintained by naval seaplanes, Chesapeake bay fishermen are making the biggest hauls on record. Reports today to the navy department from the commandant of the naval air station at Hampton Roads said the patrols had proven "indispensable" to the fishing industry in those waters.

Immense schools of fish are spotted almost daily by the seaplanes. It was reported, and fishing boats are given the location by radio communication or if in sight, by flag signals.

ITALY FACING INDUSTRIAL CRISIS, WORKMEN TAKING OVER PLANTS

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Friday will be a critical day in the history of the movement of Italian metal workers which has resulted in the occupation of many large industrial plants in that country, says the Milan correspondent of the Herald, organ of labor. On that day, the General Confederation of Labor meets in Milan, and if no decision is reached by then, the correspondent says, immediate action may be taken by workers.

"The ultimate aim of the federation of metal workers, as well as the 'confederation of labor,' he declares, 'is socialization of industry, and this aim, now almost within their grasp, may at any moment overshadow claims for wages.'

"Friday may well see an extension of the soviet principle to other industries of Italy."

ROME, Sept. 9.—Efforts continue to bring about a solution of the industrial crisis which has arisen throughout Italy as a result of the movement among metal workers to occupy plants in many of the most important industrial centers. The government has been called upon to intervene, but so far has been ineffectual, and it is said by newspapers it will act only to insure maintenance of order. Reports received here indicate that quiet prevails at all affected centers.

MILAN, Italy, Sept. 9.—One hundred labor chambers and fifty federations of trades, representing 2,500,000 workmen, will be represented at the meeting of the General Confederation of labor, which will convene here Friday to decide on the policy to be pursued by the confederation relative to the labor situation in Italy.

The railway men's union, the Federation of Seamen, the Federation of Port Laborers, the Federation of Postal and Telegraphic employees, and associations of civil servants also will be represented at the meeting.

The motive calling for this conference declared that absence would mean desertion, adding that "in this moment of crisis it is equivalent to treason."

TRIESTE, Sept. 8.—The outbreaks here leading to street fighting between Nationalists and Socialists have been resumed. Two deaths have occurred, but a score of persons have been wounded.

Interventive firing was continuing this evening, despite the fact that strong troops had been placed along the streets.

QUAKE TOLL IS VERY HEAVY

FLORENCE, Sept. 9.—The number of dead from Tuesday's earthquake is steadily growing as additional reports come in. The latest advices from Livorno bring the total of dead there alone up to 432, while in Viareggio 124 are dead and about 1,000 injured.

In nearly three score towns and villages serious damage was done and a total population of more than 10,000 rendered homeless.

Signor Micheli, the minister of agriculture is visiting the outlying mountainous districts and giving all the assistance possible.

ROME, Sept. 9.—More than 300 persons perished in the earthquake disaster which shattered cities and villages north of Florence on Thursday morning. Governmental and private agencies are engaged in the work of aiding the survivors and searching the ruins for any victims who may still be alive, but the work is seriously handicapped by the difficulty experienced in reaching many of the ruined towns, which are situated in the mountains and are almost inaccessible.

Electric light wires have been broken on and work in the ruins must stop at nightfall. New shocks but none of them of the intensity of the one which caused the whole spread destruction early Tuesday have been felt in Florence and in the neighborhood of that city. These have shaken down tottering structures and still further delayed the work of rescuers.

ROME, Sept. 9.—A tragic scene was enacted at Marina, near Carrara, when the earthquake shattered a church where mass was being celebrated. Father Frinetti, the pastor, had just raised the chalice in the most solemn moment of the service when the ceiling of the edifice fell upon the congregation, killing many of those who were worshipping. The priest was struck by falling fragments of the ceiling and his hands and face were cut, but he bravely finished the service before attending to the injuries of those about him.

HARDING WELL PLEASED WITH MINNESOTA JAUNT

ON BOARD SENATOR HARDING'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Sept. 9.—On his way home from his first campaign trip, Senator Harding, the Republican nominee for president declared himself highly pleased today with his reception by the people of Minnesota, who cheered his speech at the state fair yesterday on agricultural issues and greeted him in tumultuous fashion when he rode through the streets of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

What the result might be on the future plans of the nominee was not revealed but speculation as to the possibility of more extensive departures from the front porch was enhanced by expressions of satisfaction from two of the principal figures in management of his campaign.

Senator Harry S. New, of Indiana, head of the party's speakers' bureau, and Harry M. Daugherty, a member of the campaign committee, both of whom are in the senator's party.

"Minnesota, and its splendid twin-cities and the state fair organization," Senator Harding said in a formal statement today, "were to have lived with each other in providing a strenuous, enjoyable and completely satisfactory day for us. I shall not make the mistake of assuming that the great outpouring of people and the magnificent reception given us, was merely a personal tribute. It was more than that, and vastly more significant. It was the testimony that the people of this great state are completely in sympathy with the people of the country in determination to put America once more on the main highway of national progress and then to go ahead safely and along right lines.

"Perhaps the thing that most gratified me was the close attention with which the wonderful audience at the fair grounds listened to a speech that was intended to present a constructive program.

"It was not an appeal for applause, but a plea for thoughtful consideration of a great national problem. The people by their reception proved that they are thinking deeply about real things, and that is all we need to know in order to be certain of the future."

Senator New characterized the day's experiences in the twin-cities as "a conspicuous success," adding: "I have campaigned with every Republican presidential nominee since Blaine, and I have never seen a better day."

Senator Harding's train, which left St. Paul shortly after 11 o'clock last night, was due to reach Marion late today.

OPENING STOCKS Threw Daughter Into Lake

NEW YORK, September 9.—Little change from recent irregular conditions was shown by the movement of prices at the quiet opening of today's stock market, although signs of further ease of money induced moderate short coverings. American International was the strongest feature, rising almost one point and some of the steel, copper and railroads were fractionally higher, but otherwise slight recessions ruled. Assurances of the successful flotation of the new French loan to be offered today brought no relief to foreign exchange. British resistance again reacted.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 9.—Mrs. Katie Mickolitz, 24, threw her five year daughter Eva into Lake Erie this morning and then attempted suicide by jumping into the water. She was rescued by fishermen and taken to a hospital where physicians said she would recover. The child's body was recovered.

Bloomington Wins Pennant

Bloomington beat Moline, 4 to 3, Tuesday, and won the pennant in the Three Eye League by two points. Evansville was both games yesterday and was need out by Bloomington by two points.

O'Neil's Theory

Steve O'Neil of the Cleveland Indians advances one reason for the increase in hitting. The better nearly always has a new white ball to hit at, he says. He says batters take advantage of the new pitching rules regarding discoloration of the ball and any time there is a tiny spot on the ball they demand a new ball, consequently it's easier to get hits. Simple enough. The poor pitchers can't kick. If they did, the batters would claim they had purposely put the tiny spot on the ball, whereupon the pitcher would be subject to suspension.

Had 'Em Again.
A moving picture actor relates an amusing incident that happened during the filming of Rosalind's "Chaudler." This was done out-of-door, and one day while the actor was taking a stroll he came across a man seated in his hands, evidently in deep distress. Sympathetically he stopped and inquired what the trouble was. "I'll tell you," said the man, "I'm one of the patients at the sanitarium for bugs over yonder. Yesterday the doc said that I was well and could leave in a day or two—but what do you suppose I saw this morning? Rooters and bees six feet high and talking just like humans. That settles it! If I get away from this hole in ten years I shall be lucky."

Jack Should Worry About A $12,000 Auto

DENTON HARBOR, September 9.—When Jack Dempsey went to the train this morning, he was accompanied by his manager, Jack Kearns, and promoter Fitzsimmons and his wife. They drove to the station in Dempsey's $12,000 automobile and that motor car makes possible a pretty bit of information for the public. When Dempsey got ready to jump aboard the train, Mrs. Fitzsimmons, somewhat alarmed, said to him:

"Jack, what will we do with the car?"

"Just keep it. It is yours," was Dempsey's answer as he bowed aboard, smiling at his wife.

The powers of attraction of Dempsey and Billy Miske in ring combat is evidenced by the fact that the gate receipts for yesterday's bout at Floyd Fitzsimmons Arena drew a gate of $133,000. That great amount of money made the fight profitable for everybody concerned. The war tax amounted to more than $8,000.

Lost Fewer Games; Reds Have Advantage

CINCINNATI, Sept. 9.—When the champions arrived in St. Louis last Thursday they were greeted by the confident predictions in the local papers that the Cards would do to them just what they had done to the Hobbs and the Giants. But our boys, staying strictly off the umpire and playing with fierce determination, won three out of four games over there and then brought the Cardinals back with them and administered two more defeats to them in the Labor Day contests.

By taking five out of six from the Rickey outfit the team advanced to first place, and goes East in that position.

The Reds now have quite an advantage, from the fact that they have lost fewer games than any of their rivals. This is an extremely important factor at this stage of the season, with less than four weeks to go. It means that all our boys have to do is keep along even with the other contenders and they cannot help but win out. They have no ground to make up, but simply have to hold their own. In fact, they can lose a game or two more than either of the other contenders and still finish in front. This is quite a bunch for the club at this time, and the players realize it very well and will do all they can to retain their present advantage. If they can come into Brooklyn and New York next week in their present position, it will take a lot of beating to put them out of the race.

Yankees Beat Pirates; Bodie Is Badly Hurt

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 9.—A crowd of more than 25,000 fans witnessed an exhibition game between the New York Yankees and the Pittsburgh Pirates here yesterday, the victory going to the visitors, 7 to 3. Both teams worked superb pitchers, Zinn for Pittsburgh and Ferguson for New York.

Babe Ruth satisfied the crowd in the ninth inning when he made a home run. He holed the ball over the right field fence for the longest hit ever seen at Forbes field.

In the second inning Bodie, the Yankee center fielder, tripped and then scored on a wild pitch. In sliding into home plate, he caught his foot on the rubber. At first it was thought that he had sprained his leg, but physicians who attended him declared that Bodie's right ankle had been fractured and that he would be out of the game for the remainder of the season.

Uniforms Are Passed Around

Football uniforms were given out at P. H. S. this morning to those who were lettered in football last year.

The Little Life of Life.
The little life of life are the hardest to beat, as we all very well know. What would the possession of a hundred thousand a year, or fame, or the applause of one's countrymen, or the love and best-beloved woman, or any other, or happiness, or comfort, or all these things, if only with the condition of wearing a shoe with a couple of nails or sharp needles inside it? All fame and happiness would disappear, and plunge down that shoe. All life would rattle round those little nails.—Thackeray.

Too Anxious.
Mary Ellen had just arrived at grandmother's house and announced herself as being thirsty. "Don't drink water, honey," said grandmother. "Here's a nice glass of milk you can have." Little Mary Ellen demurred but grandmother insisted that she drink the glass of milk. Finally Mary Ellen looked at grandmother suspiciously. "Why, has it had a fly in it?" she asked.

Where Chinese Women Rule.
The housewives of China have no need to agitate for women's rights, they possess them. The housewife, whether she be a single woman or a wife of a widow, is the head of the home, that is to say, of the boat. If she is married, the husband takes the useful but subordinate place of deck hand. She does the steering, makes bargains with the passengers, collects the money, buys supplies and to general looks it over everything.

The Greatest Concrete Bridge.
The concrete girder bridge which has just been erected in Humboldt county, California, carrying a highway across the Salt river, is said to hold a record for length. Each span measures 132 feet.

BASEBALL STAR OF '90S IS TRAPSHOOTING WIZARD NOW; CLAY BIRD GAME ATTRACTS MANY NOTABLES OF DIAMOND

The trapshooting game seems to be pretty popular with stars, past and present, of the league diamonds. The clay birds have called many of the baseball luminaries of olden days and recent years. Numbered among the old boys in the trap sport is Lester German, who was a pitching mate of Alvin Karpis on the famous old Giants team in the '90s. Of the men better known to present-day fans Chief Bender,

Harry Davis, Christy Mathewson, Doc Crandall and a crowd of others took part in the sport, devoting much time to the sport.

Must Get Down To Real Work As The Schedule Is A Tough Old "Bird"

Football came into its own again Wednesday at the local High School when the first call of the season was issued by Coach M. F. McComb. Between 50 and 60 students responded and returned to Coach McComb's camp to learn the methods and rules he will employ in coaching the red and blue warriors.

Among the half hundred candidates present appeared many Freshmen, sophomores with enthusiasm. It is probable that Freshmen and Sophomore teams will be organized as well as varsity and second string squads making four separate squads of grid-irons. In this way the coaching of the varsity and second string teams will be made more practical.

It is planned that Coach McComb will be assisted by Principal H. M. Eccles, a four sport graduate of Ohio University and G. W. Hammonds, manual training teacher, who played football with Michigan under Coach Yost. This is the first year for any of these members of the P. H. S. faculty.

As it will be seen, that from a coaching standpoint P. H. S. can be excelled by none of its opponents. It is probable that Coach McComb will handle the Varsity squad while Messrs. Eccles and Hammonds will handle the blue and second string men.

No prediction with any degree of certainty can yet be made with regard to what kind of a team Coach McComb and his assistants will turn out but it is a fact that the material on hand is abundant and stocky.

Anderson, Bryant, Hopkins, Blaten, Maritz, Morton, Conliffe and Grimes, eight of the main stars of the 1919 varsity team have graduated. The nucleus of the 1920 eleven will be Muller, Wilson, Strittmatter, Frowine, Cressy, and Roth, all lettered men. The most promising material to fill the vacancies caused by graduation seems to be Muller, Strittmatter, Weldner, Chabot, Heer, J. West, C. Conliffe, Spencer and a few other second stringers who performed well last year.

The backfield this year, judging from the showing made last year, will be built probably around Frowine at quarter, with Muller and Wilson on the halves and Strittmatter at full. The ends may be Weldner, Steinhauser and Spencer the center without any doubt. Cressy, unless he goes out for a backfield position. On the guard and tackle positions, Chabot, Heer, Conliffe, J. West, Ogler, Roth and a host of other material is available. First practice will be held at Sixteenth and Findlay streets this afternoon, when preliminary practice will be gone through.

The schedule so far as completed presents an outlook for games with some of the strongest teams in this section of the country, and it will take some fall hustling by the gridirons to get down to actual work. If they are to be prepared for the initial fracas with Jackson on the home gridiron Sept. 22nd.

Here are the seven games already contracted for:

Sept. 22—Jackson, here.
Oct. 2—Open.
Oct. 9—Open.
Oct. 16—Steel III, Dayton, there.
Oct. 23—Rio Grande College, here.
Oct. 30—Huntington, there.
Nov. 6—Marlette, here.
Nov. 13—Athens, there.
Nov. 20—Ashland, here.
Thanksgiving game open.
Negotiations are being carried on with Parkersburg, Charleston, Pikeville College, Greenfield, Ironton and other schools for games to fill the open dates.

WILL HUNT BIG GAME

Lafayette Taylor, McDermott stone mason and enthusiastic big game hunter, who left a few days ago on another hunting expedition in the far north, writes home folks that he is encountering much cold weather and ice which has delayed the progress of his trip.

Mr. Taylor expects to penetrate into the wilds of British Columbia a thousand miles further than he did on his previous hunt in that country in quest of big game. He expects to be absent several weeks and is looking on bringing home some rare specimens of wild game to add to his splendid collection in his museum at McDermott.

Having Hard Time Finding Opponents For Benny Leonard

It begins to look as though lightweight champion Benny Leonard is going to have considerable difficulty finding first-class opponents willing to meet him in championship bouts. Other champions always had a flock of challengers fairly begging for a chance at the title. The only difficulty was in getting them to agree to a match in which a decision was at stake. They much preferred the no decision style of battling.

With Leonard it is different. In his case it is the contenders who do not want decisions. Leonard can get plenty of opponents to meet him in no decision affairs, but now that boxing with decisions is about to open in New York, he can find no one willing to take a chance with him. Even the opportunity to win the title and a rec-

THE ULTIMATE CONSUMER

THE federal trade commission "finds" manufacturers of farm machinery have advanced prices 73 per cent since 1914.

It recommends an indictment of corporations and firms engaged in the particular line because of conspiracy to raise prices. If the facts alleged be true it shows how easy it is to choke a dog without using butter.

The putative conspirators used no such crude and lawless methods of either open or secret agreement to enter into the elevation. They met and considered costs of production, offering many imaginative and problematical expenses and agreed there should always be "a reasonable" profit on cost, just that and nothing more. Then to keep faith with each other they exchanged costs and selling prices. A brotherly and lovely practice, spontaneously carried on without understanding, express or implied—but the goods steadily continued to mount, and, strange, to say they mounted in exact harmony so as to produce a beautiful symphony of more income and more profits.

Perhaps, the advances were justified by conditions, it would at least seem not to be totally uncalled for as other commodities have advanced, but how it works was illumined to us today, by a farmer, who told us that he was asked $185 for an implement that before the war he bought for $75. No, that doesn't conclusively show the retail dealer was a profiteer, though he is in the business for what he can get out of it. It is easy enough to see where he might not make any more and even not as much as $185 as he did at $75. For mind you the increase by the manufacturers was not a level of 30 per cent, but an average of 73 per cent, as stated by the commission. So some lines were raised far more than others, and may be some scarcely at all. That means increases of more than a hundred percent in instances and considerably less than a hundred in some instances. So when the retailer pays over one hundred percent advanced article he had to charge his customer not only the advance, in order to get return of his investment and a profit thereupon.

Here is where we see the consumer, the final owner, bearing the entire burden eventually and it is always that way.

The American dollar, and woman too for that matter, is in luck. A two million dollar catch of seals has just been made off the Pribiloff islands. That means a retail cost of two hundred million dollars, later on, but, just the same it assures the supply of summer furs.

Looks to us like that pug alias Dempsey might be arrested for taking money under false pretext. That wasn't a Labor Day fight with Mike, it was certain slaughter. And the fellow calls himself by the good Irish patronymic of Dempsey, Jack Dempsey, when his real name is Bill Harrison.

The St. Louis Cardinals, under the management of Branch Rickey, a Seoto county boy, were given a cordial welcome here, Tuesday, doubly so, it might be said—they handed the Reds two games the day before.

Can it be possible we have got this thing all wrong? Here we have been delivering many an excellent exhortation against careless and reckless automobile driving and now from the reports of accidents the fault thereof has been all the other way. We've got to get busy hereafter warning people it is altogether dangerous to try to jam an automobile off the highway.

The state fair was surely the biggest and best ever this year. And already there is talk of spending a million dollars to extend its facilities. Always this in this happy land. If a thing is a success you spend more money to keep it growing bigger and if it is a failure more money is called for to put it on its feet.

New-York - Day - By - Day

BY O. O. MINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—"Ship the Rat" was piloted in Chatham Square the other night. The rat of the elevated dropped the point of the shot and he was found in the entrance of a movie theatre. The picturesque subplot was conferred by his consorts of the underworld.

He made his living "lifting leathers" in the subway and that he had a profitable calling was evidenced by the slowly roasting rat left at the curb. His clothes came from a fashionable tailor on the avenue and that he had a taste for fine literature was discovered when a pocket volume of the essays of Anatole France was found in his coat.

His life was in a dark underground nest of Chinatown and he was a slave of the needle and the paper, but he was also a philosopher and some manuscripts found in his room showed that he might have made his mark in the field of belles-lettres.

He was just 30 and the records show he and his wife often attended the opera, dressed in fine feathers, but "Ship" did not let his hours in pursuit of pleasure interfere with his more solid profession. Several jewel robberies in the opera boxes were traced to him.

He had much of the gift loosely defined as personality. As a salesman he once called on a prosperous downtown book store. His eloquence inspired the banker's interest and he invited him to a club for luncheon. They sat in a window overlooking Fifth Avenue.

As the waiter went away with the order "Ship" looked about him and across the street staring at him was a Central Office detective. When the banker's attention had been turned, "Ship" inconspicuously thrust his nose at the minion of the law.

When the banker went to settle the check he discovered his wallet missing.

The Diary of an Engaged Girl

CECIL FOLLOWS LINDSEY TO PARIS

Thursday—Cecil arrived today, and I managed to get out with him—at least I started out with her—and explained to her that I had promised to meet his lordship at the Luxembourg. For I just had to wander round that place to my heart's content, no matter what happened.

Aunt Cecilia looked a bit worried when I told her of my plans for meeting Cecil, but then she said, after a few moments' hard thinking, "You are old enough now to know what you are doing. Lindsey dear. And in the end I had my way, and Cecil and her lover left me promising to pick me up again, sometime round nine o'clock in the evening, for I was to dine with Cecil."

The long sunny day lay before me, and when I saw Cecil's dancing black eyes hanging on into mine, over the statue of "Le Balcon." Some few moments later, I felt like hugging him, and so did he. I knew. Saw it at one swoop, and we pinched each other's arms to make sure that we were sure enough standing in the Luxembourg gallery, together, of a sunny morning in early September! It was too good to be true.

What fun it was finding all our old loves on the various walls there, standing in hushed fervor before each and every favorite, and then beginning all over again.

Never even felt the pang of hunger until we past two o'clock and then the waitress smiled at us as temptingly when we got outside, that we couldn't move on for the love of looking and walking in and about the grounds.

At two-thirty we found ourselves hungrily encircled in the Cafe du Menil, not far from the heart of the Quarter, and I was too excited at this thought to be able to order. Give a thought to food or the menu card held out to me by the smiling waitress, who evidently saw that I was a new arrival to all of his Paris and how kind they are to strangers in this little bit of a city.

We ordered, and ate, and each mouthful seemed like so much manna to us both. The glass of sparkling wine that Cecil poured out for me, and that I tasted the whole world with, seemed truly like nothing less than the nectar of the gods. Our gods! Of Love, Joy, Youth and Art. Volla!

I could hardly keep my feet still under the table—for they were fairly aching to explore and never stop. Yet

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

VISCOUNT CAVE
 Viscount Cave, who recently arrived in New York to attend as Great Britain's chief representative the annual meeting of the American Bar Association, is one of the 83,000 a year lords of the realm, that is to say, one of the judges of the highest court of appeal in the British realm.

His name is not familiar in the people of the United States. For during the first two years of the war he acted as the principal legal adviser of the foreign office in London in all matters relating to contraband and to blockade, and it was largely owing to his tact, to his soundness of judgment and his breadth of view, that the blockade measures were applied in so very liberal a manner where American shipping was concerned.

Lord Cave's arduous work at the foreign office was done over and above his ordinary duties as solicitor general of England without additional emolument and from a purely patriotic desire to be of assistance in the war.

When Lloyd George formed his cabinet in the late fall of 1916 he entrusted the secretaryship of state for the home department to Sir George Cave—as it carried with it the responsibility for the preservation of law and order throughout the United Kingdom and the care and control of all enemy aliens in the country. Two years ago he was appointed to be a lord of appeal and at the same time was raised to the peerage as a viscount.

He is a son of the late Thomas Cave, M. P., belongs to a family that has been settled in Worcestershire since the beginning of the fifteenth century, is married to one of the Matthews of Crewkerne, in Somersetshire, is a Conservative in politics, has been in parliament since 1906, and was for a considerable time attorney general to the Prince of Wales, as well as a member of the House of Commons. These two offices brought him into close and intimate contact with the reigning family and won for him in a very marked degree the favor of King George and Queen Mary.

There are so many places that I thought to see right away that I couldn't for the world have said which one I wanted to see first. It's preposterous.

After we had finished the best lunch I had ever eaten, we wandered out into the sunlight again, and from the little Menil we turned our steps into the Boule Mich, and walked along its banks for some time, looking in at all the small shops and art stores on the way.

Arrived at The Boulevard Montparnasse, dear to the heart of all artists, Cecil stopped, and then took me into one of his favorite cafes, The Brasserie de Lili, which I found out afterwards is one of the most popular in the Latin quarter, and it is also where the young writers gather and write their verse, and scribble over the poetry of the future. It is also where Ernest Dowson wrote his immortal lines, so well known to us all:

"I have been faithful to thee,
 Cynara, in my fashion."
 Yes, right on the top of one of these tables did he improvise not only this, but many others.

It was such bliss to sit, as we did, and sip our liqueur and watch the ballets stroll in, sit down at their particular tables and if they were artists draw out their pencils and begin to sketch, either on paper or on the tops of the marble tables—anywhere! What cared they?

But I am so tired now from it all that I can write no more—and tomorrow—tomorrow is a new day.

BILLY WHISKER
 BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

When the cook saw Billy with the lettuce that gentleman forgot what a hero Billy was, and angry that Billy had taken some of his precious lettuce cried:

"Hey! Drop that, you lout! That lettuce!" and threw a skillet at Billy. It hit the goat in the side with a thump, but Billy never stopped. He only ran on until he had gained the hold where his mother was and had given the nice cool lettuce to her, when he turned round to hurry away.

"Wait a minute Billy!" she called after him. "I want to talk to you."

"I haven't got time," Billy called back over his shoulder. "I've got a little business with the cook."

When Billy got back into the cook's galley, the cook was over in a corner reaching up for some baking powder that he kept on a high shelf. He stretched out just right for a good bump and Billy gave it to him.

"Great Scott!" cried the cook, and jumped up with his head bumped the shelf. He quickly turned around, but Billy had backed off and now jumped for the man again. This time the man put out his hand and caught Billy by the horns firmly enough to keep the bump Billy gave him in front from smashing him. Billy, however, jerked away and backed off for another bump, and the man, jumping up, grabbed the shelf with the foolish notion of climbing out of range. He could not have been in a better position for another bump behind, so Billy gave him that one and he dropped down from the shelf, yelling for help with all his might. In dropping he turned around, and this time Billy landed with all his weight right in the middle of the man's appetite.

By this time the cook had lost his head so that all he could do was to spread his arms and legs like an old-fashioned plumed hat and yell for help. Several men came running down the ladder and the foremost one was Hans Zug with his whip. Hans had just been over to straighten out a fight in the goat's pen, and when he saw one of his goats butting the other, he never stopped to think that it was the same Billy he had been getting and praising, so he hauled off and gave Billy a mighty slash with his sharp leather whip. Billy got through with the cook in a hurry.

So Hans Zug, who had been following him around and patting him on the back and calling him nice goat, and fine goat and brave goat, was ready to start in again, was he? Well, Billy would show him! Like a flash he wheeled and was after Hans.

"Don't start!" cried Hans and turned to run.

The men who had followed him down the steps were in the way, however, and Hans can square into them. A second later Billy ran into Hans with enough force to send him sprawling. Hans, the man and four or five of them went to the door grunting, with Hans on top. Before Billy could back off for another stroke Hans turned quickly and just in time to grab Billy by the fore legs. At the same moment the cook caught Billy by the hind legs, and these two carried him upstairs to the deck.

"Over her goes," yelled the angry cook.

"Sure!" said Hans. "He done it to me first, didn't he?"

As Hans counted his one, two, three in German, they gave three mighty swings and with the last one they let go.

Splash! went Billy into the sea!

(What happened to Billy next? To-morrow's story tell.)

The stranger glared. "Round-trip," he burst forth. "What's the use of a round-trip when I'm here already?"
